The Removal of McClellan

The report of the removal of General McClellan from the position of Commander-in-Chief of the Union Army and the placing of General Burnside in his station has created quite a sensation not only at the seat of war but even in this far distant region. Various opinions, founded generally on mere prejudices for or against the two Generals find utterance. But we have heard very few persons express themselves either in favor of the change or opposed to it who assign any intelligible reasons for entertaining such opinions. It is not an easy task for us situated as we are three thousand miles from the scenes and circumstances connected with this change, to form anything like reliable conclusions as to the merits of the Generals who are fighting our battles. We can get but very brief and imperfect ideas of the [illegible] of affairs on the Atlantic coast, from the [illegible] we receive by telegraph and even these are always some days after the actions to which our dispatches relate have transpired. There are times when the greatest affairs of the nation may hang upon the action of a single day. We are not yet informed what was the cause of McClellan's removal. When the reasons shall be known it will be soon enough to express an opinion as to whether they are satisfactory or not and to criticise or commend the action of the President.

We are fully persuaded, however, that the President understood himself in this particular, as he has shown that he generally does and that he did not act in a matter so vitally important to the country without having first canvassed his grounds thoroughly, and while we deplore the necessity for such action we do not consider that we are warranted in entering any protest knowing as little as we do of the circumstances.

History shows conclusively that any change in the head of an army, is, to say the least attended with many evil consequences. It should always be considered an experiment too hazardous to be resorted to, except in cases of manifest and pressing necessity. But there may be cases which justify it. If the matters for which Major Key was dismissed have been found to implicate Generals McClellan and Halleck, as it would seem probable, we do not hesitate to say they ought both to be removed —and the sooner the better. But we hope this is not so. We trust the cause is something else. If we are fighting against the rebels and our own leaders too there is no matter of wonder in the fact of our maintaining the struggle for eighteen months without appearing to be any nearer the accomplishment of the object of the war, than when it was begun.

However those things may be, it cannot be denied, that there has been a want of efficiency somewhere. With our army greater by three hundred thousand than that of the rebels we have been compelled almost invariably to fight them against fearful odds of number. This cannot be explained otherwise than by admitting a want of generalship on the part of those who have had the disposition of our troops. True, Gen McClellan is a regularly educated military man, and one who has always enjoyed great confidence in the military world. But somehow he has not been able to accomplish as much as some of less fame; and we place no chieftain who has figured in this war above Burnside, the successor of McClellan. He is the hero of several brilliant achievements, and has the confidence of the entire army, while civilians usually regard him as fully the equal of McClellan. When we look back upon Hatteras Inlet, where he contended with signal success against a foe largely superior in numbers, and occupying the advantageous position, we cannot but view that as an assurance of victory.

TWO MEN SHOT.—During the excitement consequent upon the arrest of the robbers that were hung at Lewiston, and while they were in prison, a friend of the prisoners somewhat intoxicated, by the name of Marshall, undertook to force his way past the guard, whereupon an altercation ensued between him and one of the guards, Mr Jones which resulted in both drawing their pistols and shooting each other at the same time. Mr Jones was struck in the right side the ball passing entirely through his body, and Marshall was shot in the right arm tearing the flesh severely. Marshall was taken away immediately and the excitement of the populace for a time quieted though it is alledged that this occurrence was the main cause of the prisoners being taken from the guard soon after and hung. Both the wounded men are reported to be convalescent.

NOT DEAD BUT SLEEPETH.—We received yesterday by our [illegible] conveyance another copy of the [illegible] published since the order of Gen Wright excluding it from the mails. The miserable thing is filled with demoniac ravings and treasonable howlings from its scabby editor. Malone is a fit subject for Fort Alcatraz and it would not surprise us to hear of his taking a sea voyage in that direction or some other place at Government expense.

From Lewiston

[illegible] Nineteenth Century.

WARRENS DIGGINGS.—The whole country prospects well and gives every indication of [illegible] mining country. About [illegible] miners [illegible] at work whose average daily earnings amount from $[illegible] to $[illegible].

FLORENCE MINES.—From our correspondents, we learn that [illegible] to lay in a good supply for winter. Appearances indicate that [illegible] work [illegible] this winter.

On Sunday [illegible] o'clock P M the bodies of David English, Nelson Scott and William Peoples were conveyed to the burying ground followed by several citizens.

Our citizens have a regular Detective Police on duty night and day; twelve men are on the watch and all suspected persons are closely watched. Several well known characters have been notified that they were not wanted in the community and have taken French leave.

LEWISTON TO BOISE.—Messrs French Kinmel & Co with their train of sixty-five mules expect to make the distance from Lewiston to Boise [illegible] of two hundred miles. They take the old Indian trail and save a great distance. As soon as suitable lumber for building steamers can be obtained these pack trains will fall into disuse for these mines, as the whole distance from Portland will be made by steam.

AID FOR SANITARY COMMISSION.—A public meeting of the citizens of Lewiston was held on the 10th of November, for the purpose of raising funds for the use of the U S Sanitary Commission, at which a subscription was opened by the Secretary, and the sum of $50[illegible] 50 was pledged. The Collectors were instructed to proceed immediately to canvass the city, and report at the next meeting.

Quite a number of miners have been in this city during the past week from Oro Fino. Some were bound for Boise, others for the lower country to spend the winter and intend returning in the spring. They give it as their opinion, that there will be new and more extensive mines discovered in the neighborhood of Oro Fino and Pierce City in the Spring. A large number will winter in these camps.

FLAG RAISING.—On Saturday next at 12 M the National Emblem of our country's pride will be raised on a flag staff in front of the Golden Age office. Our citizens are respectfully invited to assist by giving nine cheers as her silvery stars ascend to the peak and her wavering folds are kissed by the gentle breeze.

Additional Eastern News

WASHINGTON, November 10th.—There is nothing in the latest foreign intelligence to lead to apprehensions of trouble between the United States and foreign Powers in connection with army affairs unless it be from the persistence of English merchants and speculators in fitting out privateers.

LOUISVILLE, November 10th.—Rebels at Murfreesboro have been in constant communication with Mobile and have no confirmation of the statement that that place had fallen into Federal hands. The report is probably premature. It is stated that there are 15 000 rebel troops at Mobile.

CHARLESTON (S C) November 6th.—Gen Beauregard has ordered non combatants to leave Charleston with their valuable property, and has also ordered all slaves to be removed. This was done in order to avoid embarrassment and delay in case a sudden necessity should arise for the removal of the entire population.

Deserters from Bragg's army say he was obliged to destroy most of the property captured by his army in Kentucky to prevent its falling into the hands of Buell.

ST LOUIS, Nov 9.—General Schofield's army has returned to Springfield Mo and is probably going into Winter quarters.

Indications are that Emancipationists will have a majority in the next Legislature. McClure Emancipationist is probably elected to Congress from Jefferson City district.

CINCINNATI, Nov 10th.—An Indianapolis dispatch says that on Wednesday night a battalion of Shackleford's Kentucky cavalry was attacked by a large force of guerrillas under Colonel Fowler on Pond river seven miles from Madisonville Kentucky. The attack was gallantly resisted and the rebels compelled to retire with a loss of eight killed, including Col Fowler. A large number were taken prisoners.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 9th.—McClellan's removal caused great excitement here. Among the rumors as to the cause is one that some instructions of the General in Chief were not followed, and Lee escaped in consequence.

Forney's Press says the removal was purely a military act, and the result of military consultation and discussion. Although recommended to the President, and approved by him some time ago it was only finally resolved upon after a change became inevitable.

HALLECK'S ORDERS TO McCLELLAN.—WASHINGTON, Nov 10.—A letter has just been published written by General Halleck on the 28th of October to the Secretary of War from which we make the following extract:

On the 1st of October finding McClellan purposed operating from Harper's Ferry I urged him to cross the river at once, and give the enemy battle [illegible] the disadvantages of delaying until the Autumn rains had swollen the Potomac and impaired the roads. On the 6th of October he was peremptorily ordered to cross the Potomac and give battle to the enemy or drive them south. It will be observed that three weeks have elapsed since that order was given. In my opinion there has been no such want of supplies in the army under McClellan as to prevent his complying with my orders to advance upon the enemy. Had he removed his army to the south side of the Potomac he could have received supplies almost as speedily as by remaining on the north [illegible]

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.

LATER FROM THE EAST.

New York, Nov 1[illegible].—The Times' [illegible] the Medical Director reports [illegible] that it would be extremely imprudent to subject the [illegible] to the dangers of yellow fever in the Department of the South until after severe frosts. This will probably delay the sailing of Hunter's command.

The charges against Fitz John Porter for misconduct at Bull Run are [illegible] investigated until the arrival of Pope.

General Pope telegraphed [illegible] that he had condemned three hundred Minnesota Indians [illegible] Execute only the ringleaders.

Washington, Nov 12.—[illegible] the Rappahannock [illegible] Mountain under Gen [illegible].

Hampton Legion and [illegible] Stuart's division was between [illegible] Washington and Sperryville [illegible] artillery yesterday shelled the camp [illegible] Illinois Cavalry. Gen Griffin [illegible] four miles from Rappahannock [illegible] to Culpepper.

Warrenton correspondence of N [illegible] says: "The feeling throughout the army towards Gen Burnside is very warm and cordial. The rebel army is believed to be massed in Culpepper and vicinity."

Washington, Nov 12th.—Col [illegible] Ford and Major Baird, 12[illegible] New York Regiment have been dismissed from service—Ford for incapacity, Baird for [illegible] conduct.

Gen Bayard is at Rappahannock [illegible] with enemy in force on opposite [illegible] river.

Gen McClellan was escorted to the depot yesterday by a large cavalcade, including Burnside. No demonstration was made at his departure.

Contrabands report Longstreet in force at Culpepper. All report Gen Hill [illegible] with Jackson.

Trenton, Tenn, Nov 10th.—[illegible] passed La Grange yesterday evening. Our pickets are within six miles of Holly Springs.

Cairo, Nov 11th.—Dispatches indicate that the rebels have evacuated Holly Springs. Dispatch from Gen Ransom says: "My command arrived here to-day having marched 150 miles and had a fight with the rebel Woodward. We killed 6, wounded [illegible], captured 40, took 100 horses and mules and large quantities of stores. We drove the enemy beyond Cumberland."

Dr Wm Hall's Balsam.—The proprietors do not claim that this medicine is infallible [illegible] to the certificates of [illegible] to the public, for abundant proof that it has been remarkably successful and is therefore well [illegible] a fair trial.

REPORT [illegible] The following is the report of the [illegible] Jury of Multnomah county for the November term 1862

The Grand Jury for the term respectfully report to the Court that they have patiently investigated [illegible] before them and are now ready to adjourn

They are glad to know that the crimes to which their attention has been called and for which [illegible] have been [illegible] are generally of minor importance

Having examined the prisons [illegible] as is made their duty [illegible] speak in terms [illegible] city prison in the city of Portland The building is insecure [illegible] for fire the [illegible] the bedding [illegible] things generally uncleanly and some filthy The city authorities ought at once to see to it that this disgrace is not longer continued We feel justified in speaking thus plainly because former grand juries have called attention to the matter

The county jail is kept cleanly and in good order but is insecure More cells are needed and other minor changes which have been suggested by the present keeper of the jail We respectfully recommend the County Commissioners to make such improvements as are desired by the keeper

We have visited the penitentiary of the State, and find the prisoners supplied with food and clothing sufficient for their [illegible] The penitentiary building is certainly no honor to the State but [illegible] think a decided improvement over the old, and hope further legislation and experience will bring about all that is desired We noticed that the building was old and unfit [illegible] It ought to be renewed and altered as wished

Having nothing further to report we ask to be discharged F M WARREN

Foreman of the Grand Jury

Try it every body.

Read new advertisement in to-day's issue

SAN FRANCISCO Nov 10th.—The total receipts of treasure since last steamer day are but little short of $1,100,000, but of a large a proportion has gone to the Mint that the supply of bullion offering is unusually limited The ruling price for gold bars to day has been 830. Exchange on the Atlantic cities payable in currency has again receded, and the rates range at about 18a22 percent discount. Bills payable in coin are held at 2a6 per cent premium. Commercial bills are quoted at 2 a 4 per cent discount legal tenders are selling at 85a86

At an adjourned meeting of merchants it was resolved to adopt a circular embodying the plan of an agreement not to receive or pay out legal tender notes at par but to adhere to gold as the standard in all mercantile transactions receiving only at the market value notes

SNAKE INDIANS —We find the following in the Washington Statesman of Nov 15th

Mr Wm Wilson, who came in from [illegible] this week informs us that the Snake Indians recently made a descent upon [illegible] company of packers in the vicinity of Fort Boise, and drove off all their animals Mr W says the Indians in that country manifest a decidedly inhospitable disposition toward the whites though since the rush to Boise they seem to have become somewhat intimidated and will through fear of the large number of whites now within their country probably commit no serious depredations

CHARLES BARRETT'S

[From the Oregon Farmer.]

The True Wealth of a Country.

The true wealth of a country does not consist in her mines of precious metal, her productive soil or her genial clime. Italy, blessed above all other countries by nature, is a land of beggars. Her brigands infest her rural districts and swarm her streets. Mexico, rich in her mines of silver is poor, poor indeed. In fact these countries which have been most blessed by nature, appear to contain a population most destitute and enervated, while those upon which nature has withheld her choicest bounties, and ordained that man, in order to secure the comforts of life, must wage an unceasing warfare with the stubborn soil and unfriendly elements, are blessed with a race hardy and vigorous, independent and wealthy, commanding not only the products of their own soil, but those of distant lands.

Therefore, the true wealth of a nation consists in something beside the bounties which nature has furnished. It consists in labor. Stern, unremitting toil, that never flags or never tires, is the invariable cause of a nation's wealth and grandeur. It is labor that levels forests and makes the wilderness to blossom like a rose, that digs from the mountain side the obdurate granite and rears it into splendid edifices, that begirts the land with canals and railways over which it takes the product of all climes to its very doors.

And when a people, after abandoning all hopes of a livelihood from other and uncertain sources, have resolved to win for themselves a competence by the product of their own labor—on the farm, in the workshop or in the busy marts of trade—then their day of prosperity has fairly commenced.

Labor is the secret alike of individual happiness and independence and of national wealth and grandeur. The sturdy peasantry among the mountains of Norway, the hardy Scotchmen upon their rugged highlands, and the sturdy farmers among the more sterile districts of New England are as happy, contented and virtuous a class of people as can be found. And this is the most lasting source of wealth. Mines of silver and gold may soon be exhausted, but so long as the sun shines and the seasons make their annual rounds, so long will the hand of labor win from the soil those rich trophies that will purchase a nation both wealth and renown.

The Real Causes.

We have heard many complain that farming in Oregon does not pay, and we have become fully convinced that in a great many cases it has not paid. But the reason for this is not found either in the soil or climate; for Oregon is especially blessed in respect to both.

The real causes are to be found elsewhere, and it is the duty of each one to ascertain what they are, in order that they may be removed. One of the causes of the ill success that has attended farming, has been our poor thoroughfares, and the expense consequent upon sending the products of the field to market. The uncertainty of reaching the market at all seasons of the year has an injurious effect upon the agricultural interests of the State. For what little demand there is in our own city for the staple products of Oregon, is very often supplied from California, while at the same time there is more than enough in the country which would be eagerly thrown into market if the expenses were not so much and the obstacles so great. Only let the means of constant, steady and easy communication be opened from this city throughout the entire valley, and then the farmers would not only be stimulated to supply our own market, but would contend for a chance in those of California and various other ports.

Again, one of the causes of the poor profits of farming in Oregon is found in the fact that many have too much land for the labor. They should always be proportionate. The farmer should never undertake to perform that which cannot be done thoroughly. If he does, it is nearly always with pecuniary loss. Many farmers with two hundred acres of land have labored hard and made little, who might with fifty acres have labored less and made more.—This practice of skimming over so much land, not only is unprofitable to the farmer but injurious to the soil.

But both of these causes will gradually be removed as our population is augmented. For this reason we welcome with cordiality the immigrants who seek our valley. With their aid these obstacles will be removed, our thoroughfares will be greatly improved, our farms reduced in size and enhanced in value. Then with the markets of the world at our command, farming will pay, and the Oregon farmers will become independent and wealthy.

False Economy.

Economy is a most commendable virtue, but there are many practices which assume this name that are not in the least entitled to it. There is a great difference between economy and stinginess. Economy may often dictate lavish expenditures for worthy objects where ample assurances are given of rich returns, where short-sighted avarice raises its voice against it as extravagant and ruinous.

There is a great deal of truth in that proverb which declares that "there is that scattereth and yet increaseth, and there is that withholdeth more than is meet but it tendeth to poverty." That dictate which withholdeth more than is meet and which tendeth to poverty, always endeavors to palm itself off as economy, and succeeds so often that, with the unwary and unthinking, it brings that virtue somewhat into disrepute.

It is that dictate and not economy that prompts the farmer to allow his field to grow poor, because their enrichment will cost labor and expense; that for the same reason causes but a partial tillage of the soil, and insufficient fodder for his cattle This is not economy. This is no virtue but a crime, and if persisted in, will as assuredly as effect follows cause, bring its victim to poverty, sorrow and disgrace.

Dancing ahead Back off.—Two unsophisticated country lasses visited Niblo's in New York during the ballet season. When the short-skirted, gossamer-clad nymphs made their appearance on the stage, they became restless and fidgety. "Well, Annie!" exclaimed one sotto voce. "Well, Mary?" "It ain't nice—I don't like it!" "Hush." "I don't care, it ain't nice, and I wonder aunt brought us to such a place." "Hush, Mary, the folks will laugh at you." After one or two more flings and a pirouette, the blushing Miss said, "Oh, Annie, let's go—it ain't nice, and I don't feel comfortable!" "Hush, Mary," replied the sister, whose own face was scarlet, though it wore an air of determination, "it's the first time I was ever at a theatre, and I suppose it will be the last, so I am not going to stir out, if they dance every rag off their backs!"

Decision of Commissioner of Internal Revenue.—Washington, Oct. 20.—The following decisions have been made by the Commissioner of Internal revenue:

The phrase kept for use employed in reference to silver plate and ware kept for sale, and also that which is in possession of a family, or its members, as souvenirs or keepsakes. The plate properly taxable is that which has been purchased for the use of the family, or has been presented to the family as part of their household furniture, and is such is kept for use, whether for ornament or actual service, in the exception of the law. Assessors are directed to allow owners of silver ware to have the same weighed and make a report thereof.

A stamp will be required upon every certificate which has or may have a legal value in any Court of law or equity. Where a manufacturer has new goods on hand at the place of manufacture, but has not taken out a license, nor kept his mill in operation since September 1st, his goods are subject to duty, whenever sold or removed from the place of manufacture.

In stamping promissory notes or other instruments requiring stamps under the provisions of the excise law, stamps of a smaller amount in number sufficient to amount to the sum of the stamps required can be used, provided they are of the kind denominated for the peculiar instrument drawn.

Central American News.—The following news comes by the Sonora:

There seems to be a difficulty brewing between the Central American States. Guatemala charges that President Barrios, of Salvador, has been for a long time inciting the Indians of the former State to insurrection, and complains bitterly of it. Guatemala and Nicaragua have made a treaty offensive and defensive, directed against Salvador and Honduras. Costa Rica is keeping aloof. In Honduras an attempt at revolution had been made at the capital, but was suppressed. In Nicaragua the vote for electors of President resulted in the choice of those favorable to Martinez. A revolution, however, is confidently predicted when the vote shall be declared, the Chamorro and Jerez party being ready to oppose the Martinez party. There is a report also that the commander of Fort Castillo on the Nicaragua river, has orders not to allow passengers from New York or San Francisco to pass that place after the 19th of the present month, when the Transit Company should commence its carriage of passengers in accordance with its contract. The report that the lake steamer San Juan has been destroyed on the Machuca rapid is not true. The lake as well as the river steamer is ready for transportation of passengers.

OREGON
State Insane and Idiotic Asylum

DRS. HAWTHORNE & LORYEA,
Physicians and Proprietors.

In pursuance of a law passed by the present Legislative Assembly, the Oregon State Insane and Idiotic Asylum is located in East Portland, in this county, Drs. Hawthorne & Loryea, Physicians and Proprietors.

The Proprietors of the above Establishment will immediately make additions to their present buildings, in order to offer accommodations to all who are unfortunate enough to need the care and treatment of an Insane or Idiotic Asylum.

It is especially requested on the part of County Judges, guardians and friends of this class of patients, to have them immediately conveyed to the Asylum, so that they may be properly cared for before the inclement weather sets in.

THE INDIGENT WILL BE SUPPORTED AT THE EXPENSE OF THE STATE, and no receipt of debt made against them. For further particulars apply to

Drs. HAWTHORNE & LORYEA,
Physicians of the Oregon State Insane and Idiotic Asylum.
Portland, Multnomah Co., Oct 10, 1862.

DR. BAKER'S PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon be relieved of pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe gum at the same time, it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe parts affected morning and night, at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls on your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

DR. BURTON'S
Balsamic Compound
FOR THE SPEEDY AND RADICAL CURE OF GONORRHOEA AND
DISEASES of the URINARY ORGANS.

This is a remedy which requires no assistance to perform its duty quickly and thoroughly, leaving no injurious effect either to the constitution or to the part affected. It is the result of long experience, and close observation in a great number of cases, and has been invariably successful where other medicines or treatment have failed; thus proving itself to be a remedy long required by the public.

Price ....$1 per Bottle
